===== Notes: All sounds and romanizations are made by Nota Terbiyecisi I don't know about the songs "Sometimes", "I'm in Love with a German" or "In Fact, I Think You Are, Too", but don't listen to them because it's my first time on creating music. Special thanks to the composer of that song especially to @Terbiyecisi (I wonder how you pronounce your name). Risk and prognosis of pulmonary hypertension after lung transplantation in adults. Pulmonary hypertension is a major cause of death in patients with end-stage pulmonary disease and is an indication for lung transplantation. The available information about post-lung-transplant survival and risk of long-term mortality due to pulmonary hypertension is limited. Our objective was to describe the risk and prognosis of pulmonary hypertension in adult lung transplant recipients. We performed a retrospective cohort study of 1234 adult lung transplant recipients, from 1995 through 2005. Pulmonary c9d1549cdd

King Leo: "Because I think I have found a way to destroy our enemies and win the war!" Reyno: "At what cost?" King Leo: "But what cost? No life, no war." Reyno: "So you'd lose everything you've worked so hard for?" King Leo: "I've worked hard for the greater good, where's the harm?" Reyno: "Look, the people are your life. Don't lose them." King Leo: "But I'm already the only one left in the kingdom. I'm your King!" Reyno: "Then you are my King. But if you abandon the people, what makes them yours?" King Leo: "You are a fool to question me. You are the fool!" Reyno: "Fool? You're the fool for giving your life to such a useless cause. A damn war you started for nothing." King Leo: "It is for the greater good!" Reyno: "Greater good? You have no idea of the real world. You're blinded by the power of your kingdom." King Leo: "There are many ways to achieve the same goal. There is no need to fight." Reyno: "And what if we lose? What if they win?" King Leo: "Who said anything about losing? We will win." Reyno: "How?" King Leo: "I have a plan, one that, I hope, will lead us to success." Reyno: "Oh? And what is that?" King Leo: "The route is unsure. But I think I can find it." Reyno: "OK, the route is in the north-west. But I think you will lose the war." King Leo: "I know we will win. But I still have to try." Reyno: "As you like. But don't expect me to follow you into certain death." Naruto was an orphan. He was raised in the village of

relates generally to semiconductor memory, and more particularly to a non-volatile memory that allows individual memory cells to be selectively erased and programmed as desired. 2. Description of the Related Art In early DRAM applications, each memory cell consisted of one transistor and one capacitor, which was charged to one power supply voltage value or another as stored bits. Present capacity and density requirements of DRAMs are pushing smaller cell dimensions. As this takes place, the cell designers must provide for lost cell charge of about 10% each decade. A "1" stored data state must maintain a charge level of about 12 fc with 10% lost capacity each decade. On the other hand, "0" stored data state must have about zero charge leakage degradation at a 10-percent defect rate. This normally requires an extra cell over 10 fF so that any "1" stored charge holds at near 12 fc. Elimination of geometrical sizing restrictions is
